UNITY GRACE PHONE SYSTEM PROJECT

Techville Computer Centers is currently working on designing a digital phone system for Unigrace Corporation. Unigrace Corporation is a company which specializes in paper, plastic, and glass bags and containers. Recently, they are looking for an updated digital phone system for their office, which is located in Dallas, TX. Techville believes that the VoIP phone system is best suited and is most effective for their current needs. Not only does it conveniently reduce communication costs, the VoIP phone system is also an emerging technology that will be widely used in the near future by most business and professional organizations. In this project, Techville will provide the complete design, purchase, cabling, setup, and maintenance, using the AYC phone system.
