DIGITAL SIGNAGE NETWORK: FAMILY RICE NOODLE RESTAURANT

Techville is currently working with Family Rice Noodle Restaurant in Richardson, TX as they join our Digital Signage (DSA) Network along with Asia World Market in Plano, TX. Techville provided thorough consultations and all the equipment setups and installations at the restaurant. We also helped them promote specific products and designed personalized presentation slides. We will be providing updates, maintenance, and content management for the DSA network members. Family Rice Noodle Restaurant is quite content with benefits and improvements that the digital signage technology offers.

The DSA (Digital Signage Advertising) Network is a great system designed to enable businesses to come together and advertise with their clients, partners, and sponsors through the digital signage system. Through DSA Network, you will be able to run your advertisements not only at your place of business, but in your clients, partners, or sponsors who are also in your DSA network. To join and experience the benefit of this network, we will provide you with a starting package that you can purchase or lease for 6 months – 1 year. For your convenience, we will take care of all of the necessary installation, setup, content management, and maintenance. Afterwards, you will also be eligible to expand your network and earn commissions through referring the network to your clients, partners, or sponsors. The DSA network will be a revolutionary way to effective marketing and expand your growth.
